About Eidos Therapeutics

Eidos Therapeutics is a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company focused on addressing the large and growing unmet need in diseases caused by transthyretin, or TTR, amyloidosis, or ATTR. We seek to treat this well-defined family of diseases at their collective source by stabilizing TTR. Our product candidate, AG10, an orally-administered small molecule designed to potently stabilize TTR, is a potentially best-in-class treatment aiming to halt the progression of ATTR diseases.

Founded in 2013, Eidos is led by a team of industry veterans who are responsible for developing over 30 molecules through IND applications and more than 10 approved drugs. Together with patients and physicians, we aim to bring a safe, effective and disease-modifying treatment for ATTR to market as quickly as possible.
