Price to serve as co-CEO alongside Matt Flake, who continues as president and chairman of the board

Price joins the Q2 Board of Directors and will continue to serve as chief financial officer during the Company's search for a new CFO

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Q2 Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: QTWO), a leading provider of digital transformation solutions for financial services, today announced that its Board of Directors has appointed Jonathan Price as Co-Chief Executive Officer, effective October 29, 2026. Mr. Price will serve as Co-CEO alongside Matt Flake, who will also continue in his roles as President and Chairman of the Board. As part of his appointment, Mr. Price also will be joining the Board of Directors. Mr. Price will continue to serve as the Company's Chief Financial Officer, a position he has held since 2024, while Q2 conducts a search for his successor.

"Jonathan is a highly talented executive who has been a driving force behind Q2's strategy, financial discipline, and growth for nearly a decade," said Matt Flake, CEO, President, and Chairman of Q2. "Over the last several years we've strengthened our leadership team, expanded our platform, and deepened our customer relationships, all while staying true to the culture of innovation and service that defines Q2. Moving to a co-CEO structure ensures the long-term continuity of that discipline and focus. Together with Jonathan, we are well positioned to keep putting our customers first and growing the business well into the future."

"I'm honored to step into this role alongside Matt and to help lead a company whose mission I believe in deeply," said Jonathan Price. "Over the past few years we've executed on our growth plans, expanded our margins, strengthened our balance sheet, and sharpened our capital allocation, building a foundation to continue delivering for our shareholders. My focus is to build on that track record while keeping our customers and employees at the center of everything we do."
