

Jacobs Wins FEMA Puerto Rico Response Contract

2018-05-31

DALLAS, May 31, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Jacobs Engineering Group Inc. (NYSE:JEC), in a joint venture with CDM Smith, has been awarded a $65M one-year contract with a $35M six-month option to provide the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) public assistance recovery operations, construction and project management and technical support services for Puerto Rico in response to Hurricane Maria.

Jacobs will support FEMA with construction and project management support to conduct site visits and damage assessments of important infrastructure. The company will collaborate with the Government of Puerto Rico and other stakeholders to develop scopes of work and cost estimates for restoring damaged infrastructure and providing cost-effective hazard mitigation measures.

"We will be working in coordination with FEMA and the community to support the rebuild of Puerto Rico's critical infrastructure," said Jacobs Global Environmental Solutions Senior Vice President Jan Walstrom. "Helping families, communities, schools and businesses return to normalcy is very rewarding and we are grateful for the opportunity to support this important task."

Since November 2017, Jacobs has been delivering on three task orders to support FEMA's mission on several critical grant programs focused on infrastructure projects, housing inspections and other related professional services for the hurricane recovery efforts on St. Croix, St. Thomas and St. John. This contract award supports Jacobs' strategy to be a comprehensive solutions provider to national governments on critical programs and allows for recovery work on the islands at least through April 2019.

Jacobs leads the global professional services sector delivering solutions for a more connected, sustainable world. With $15 billion in fiscal 2017 revenue when combined with full-year CH2M revenues and a talent force of more than 77,000, Jacobs provides a full spectrum of services including scientific, technical, professional and construction- and program-management for business, industrial, commercial, government and infrastructure sectors.
