Dominion Energy Helps Walterboro Customers Save With Free Energy Efficiency Program

CAYCE, S.C. (Nov. 17, 2026) – Dominion Energy customers in Walterboro recently attended a kickoff event for the Neighborhood Energy Efficiency Program (NEEP). They are among the over 1,500 customers in the area who are eligible for free energy-saving products and services through NEEP, which offers home assessments, on-site education and installation of energy-efficient products to income-eligible customers.

Customers began receiving information on how to participate in October, with installations in homes beginning in November and continuing through January 2027. Dominion Energy representatives will complete installations at no cost.

“Our team is working with customers in Walterboro to provide practical tools and information to help them reduce energy use at home,” said Derek McDaniel, program manager. “Knowledge is power. We are empowering customers to put these tips into practice and make changes that can have a meaningful impact over the long term.”

Energy-saving products available to program-eligible residential customers include the following:

- LED light bulbs
- Faucet aerators and low-flow shower heads
- Electric water heater wraps and pipe insulation
- Advanced smart power strips
- Door sweeps and weatherstripping for doors and windows
- HVAC air filter replacement
- Digital wall thermometers

In addition to NEEP, customers had the opportunity to talk in person with a Dominion Energy customer assistance representative and learn about the company’s available programs and resources.

Since its launch in 2013, NEEP has helped Dominion Energy customers across the state reduce electricity usage through direct-install improvements and energy education. Over the past decade, customers have saved enough electricity to power approximately 112,000 homes for a year.

Dominion Energy offers a comprehensive portfolio of EnergyWise programs that work together to increase overall energy efficiency and reduce energy usage. For more information about these programs, visit DominionEnergy.com/Savings or call toll-free at 877-510-7234.
