MINNEAPOLIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Ameriprise Financial (NYSE: AMP) has been named by Forbes as one of “America’s Best Large Employers” for the fourth consecutive year. The 2024 list ranks the top 600 U.S. companies that are most highly recommended by their employees as a great place to work.

“It’s a privilege to have Ameriprise employees rank us as one of the best employers,” said Kelli Hunter Petruzillo, Executive Vice President of Human Resources at Ameriprise. “At Ameriprise, we take great care in building a values-based, inclusive culture that allows all employees and advisors to feel like they belong and can grow and develop in their careers. Earning this recognition for the fourth year in a row symbolizes the pride our employees take in the work they do to help millions of clients achieve their biggest financial goals with confidence.”

Forbes partnered with market research and industry ranking provider Statista to survey more than 170,000 employees at American companies with a workforce greater than 1,000 people over the last three years. Respondents were anonymously asked whether they would recommend their current, former and other familiar employers to friends and family on an 11-point scale. The final ranking in the Large Employers category includes companies with at least 5,000 employees from 27 industry categories.
