In his new role, Stewart will oversee all phases of recruiting financial professionals to join HilltopSecurities' Private Client Group and Momentum

Independent Network. He will have an office at the firm's Dallas headquarters.

"HilltopSecurities is growing and we're excited to welcome Jeff to help us continue expanding both our employee and independent retail wealth management channels," said HilltopSecurities Head of Wealth Management John Muschalek. "With his deep experience in the industry and proven talent, Jeff will play an important role in the growth of our premier platform to serve financial professionals and their clients across the country."

Stewart brings more than two decades of experience to his new position, most recently as senior vice president with Tri-State Capital's Private Bank. He has also served as regional vice president for Columbia management and as a partner with SIP Nordic, in addition to positions with Merrill Lynch's Private Banking and Investment Group and Federated Investors. Stewart earned a bachelor's degree from Kenyon College.

"I'm proud to join such a respected and dynamic organization, and I look forward to contributing to HilltopSecurities' continued growth," Stewart said.
