Bioanalytical Systems, Inc., doing business as Inotiv, Invests in Additional Vivarium Capacity at Facility in West Lafayette, IN

2021-03-09

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 09, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Bioanalytical Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ:BASI) (the "Company", "We", "Our" or "Inotiv"), doing business as Inotiv, a leading provider of nonclinical and analytical contract research services continues to invest in expanding services and adding capacity to meet client needs and growth expectations. In line with these goals, the Company has been expanding and further developing its West Lafayette vivarium. Last month, the additional West Lafayette capacity was successfully accredited by the Association for Assessment and Accreditation of Laboratory Animal Care (AAALAC) International Council. The Company believes this is an important step forward as it remains focused on strategic growth.

The AAALAC International Council on Accreditation commended Inotiv's West Lafayette facility for excellent institutional support, specifically noting financial support for facilities, infrastructure, continuing education and development of staff, an engaged Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC), and exceptionally well-maintained facilities.

"We choose to make investments such as those to our West Lafayette facility because they allow us to provide the speed and quality that our clients deserve, while at the same time promoting the highest possible standards of care and service," said Company President and Chief Executive Officer Robert Leasure, Jr. "We take pride in all of our facilities being AAALAC accredited, even those where it would not be required. We hold ourselves to that high standard."

The West Lafayette facility showcases advanced in vivo capabilities, purpose-built to characterize pharmacologic and toxicologic parameters of drug candidates. The vivarium utilizes state of-the-art equipment including the Company's Culex Automated Pharmacology System and Empis System.
