Renewed accreditation recognizes Brightstar for upholding highest levels of responsible gaming standards in iLottery operations

LONDON, Nov. 4, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Brightstar Lottery PLC (NYSE: BRSL) ("Brightstar" or "the Company") announced today that it has once again received the Internet Compliance Assessment Program ("iCAP") Ready accreditation for its iLottery operations from the National Council on Problem Gambling ("NCPG").

Based on the original iCAP designed for gaming operators, iCAP Ready is a U.S. accreditation program designed for gaming suppliers who are committed to upholding responsible gaming standards across their products and services. Supported by the NCPG, iCAP Ready utilizes best practices from the Internet Responsible Gambling Standards to ensure suppliers implement and maintain responsible gambling policies, provide effective staff training, and offer comprehensive player support tools.

"We are proud to receive iCAP Ready accreditation again for our iLottery business, and it is especially meaningful to do so for the first time as a pure play lottery business," said Wendy Montgomery, Brightstar Senior Vice President Branding, Communications and Sustainability. "This achievement is a testament to Brightstar's comprehensive responsible gaming processes and practices and our commitment to protecting our employees, customers and players across the globe."

To achieve the accreditation, an overall compliance assessment was performed by a third party on behalf of NCPG to ensure Brightstar's responsible gaming framework met iCAP Ready's objective of protecting the consumer and ensuring safer gambling practices for players, beginning with the supplier. The Company was the first gaming industry supplier to receive this accreditation in 2024.
