Ategrity Launches Four New Products Powered by Its Productionized Underwriting Model

2026-08-18

Life Sciences, Energy, Sports & Entertainment, and Environmental Liability offerings mark the next phase of Ategrity's profitable growth strategy

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Ategrity Specialty Insurance Company Holdings (NYSE:ASIC) today announced the launch of four new specialty products for small and medium-sized businesses: Life Sciences, Energy, Sports & Entertainment, and Environmental Liability.

The expansion marks the next phase of Ategrity's product roadmap and a natural continuation of the strategy the company has successfully executed across its casualty, property, and management and professional liability businesses.

"Ategrity has reached another inflection point in its strategic trajectory," said Justin Cohen, Chief Executive Officer of Ategrity. "We have grown our business profitably, demonstrated the strength of our productionized underwriting model and significantly expanded our distribution network. Today's launch represents a step forward in generating further profitable growth by delivering new specialty products through Ategrity's scalable underwriting platform."

Following its IPO, Ategrity grew gross written premiums by more than 25% for the twelve months ended June 30, 2026 compared with the prior-year period, outpacing the industry's moderating growth rate, while maintaining strong underwriting performance and generating continued operating expense improvements. These results reflect the effectiveness of Ategrity's differentiated strategy and its ability to deliver high-quality quotes with speed, consistency and precision.

“Ategrity today is a larger, more diversified company with broader underwriting capabilities, a differentiated operating platform and a substantially larger and more engaged wholesale distribution network,” said Chris Schenk, President and Chief Underwriting Officer of Ategrity. “We are well positioned to solve more problems for our partners. In these specialty products, brokers often experience significant friction and slow response times when seeking quotes. We can now address that problem by bringing Ategrity’s underwriting approach to these specialty markets.”

The four new products bring Ategrity’s established underwriting model to specialty niches where the company believes there is strong demand from its broker network. The new product areas will operate within Ategrity’s existing underwriting framework, which combines specialized expertise, centralized governance, account-level analytics, risk micro-segmentation and streamlined workflows. This infrastructure is designed to support consistent decision-making, responsive broker service and active management of pricing, terms, limits and portfolio concentrations.

“We believe our market reach, focused strategy and differentiated underwriting approach position us to identify and serve unique specialty risks across these product areas,” Schenk continued. “But opportunity does not create entitlement. We are entering these markets with technical rigor, humility and the conviction that we must earn the right to win. We are building for the long term, and we will earn trust the same way we have across our existing portfolio: by working hard, solving meaningful problems and consistently delivering for our partners.”
