In addition, White is a regent for the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, serving as Michigan Board of Regents Chair from 2008-09 and again from 2014 -15. She graduated from the U.S. Army War College in Carlisle, Penn., in 2014 with a Master of Strategic Studies Degree. Currently she serves as Command Judge Advocate for the 46th Military Police Command in Lansing, Mich.

In her two previous military assignments, White served the U.S. Army Reserve as an Instructor of Law at the United States Military Academy at West Point, and as the reserve Associate Dean of the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School. She was on active duty from 1992-95, serving in the Honors Program of the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General's Corps as the Corps of Engineers' Intellectual Property Counsel. After completing her active duty service, White clerked for the Honorable Randall R. Rader, circuit judge for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

White earned a Bachelor's Degree in Electrical Engineering from Princeton University and law degrees from George Washington Law School and the University of Washington School of Law. She is a Fulbright Senior Scholar, a former White House Fellow (2001-02), and a registered patent attorney.

"It is exceedingly rare to encounter an individual who has gained such an amazing breadth and depth of knowledge and expertise as Katherine White," said Old National Bancorp Chairman Larry Dunigan. "We are honored to welcome her to the Old National Bancorp Board of Directors, and we believe her unique combination of civilian and military experience will provide our Board with a unique and highly valuable perspective."

White was a market board member for United Bank and Trust for 11 years, which was assumed into Old National Bancorp in 2014 as part of a cash and stock merger. She has since been serving on the Old National Bank Advisory Board for the Central Michigan market.
