

Six female members of Old National Executive Leadership Group honored by American Banker magazine

2018-10-02

The six female members of Old National's Executive Leadership Group have been recognized in the October 2018 issue of American Banker magazine, as part of the magazine's annual "Women in Banking and Finance" awards. Old National joined JPMorgan Chase, BMO Financial, TD Bank and Zions Bancorp as winners in the Most Powerful Team category.

The Old National ELG members honored are Joan Kissel, EVP, Chief Audit Executive/Ethics Officer; Sara Miller, EVP, Regional CEO; Candice Rickard, EVP, Chief Risk Officer; Ann Ryan, EVP, Chief Client Experience Officer; Kathy Schoettlin, EVP, Chief Cultural Officer; and Kendra Vanzo, EVP, Chief People Officer.

"This recognition validates what everyone who knows and has worked with these six servant-leaders already recognizes – that they are exceptional at what they do, and that they embody the values, vision and commitment to excellence that make Old National such a strong community bank," said Old National Chairman and CEO Bob Jones.

The winning teams will be honored on October 4th in New York City.

Read the American Banker magazine article.

###

About Old National - Old National Bancorp (NASDAQ:ONB) is the holding company of Old National Bank. Headquartered in Evansville with $17.5 billion in assets, it is a top 100 U.S. bank, the largest Indiana-based bank and has been recognized as a World's Most Ethical Company by the Ethisphere Institute for seven consecutive years. For nearly 185 years, Old National has been a community bank committed to building long-term, highly valued relationships with clients. With locations in Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, Old National provides retail and commercial banking services along with comprehensive wealth management, investment and capital markets services. For information and financial data, please visit Investor Relations at oldnational.com.